Total for the five cows in milk and butter.

In order to give those who wish to make an estimate a clue to work upon, we will say that in the Wisconsin Dairy Test, the greatest competition test among dairy leads on the Holsteins in the land, one hundred and fifty eight Holstein cows averaged 14,638.8 pounds of milk and 602 pounds of butter fat. The Pabst stock farm which is one of the largest in the state, has thirty-seven Holsteins that have yearly record of 15,005 pounds of milk and 649.1 pounds of butter. The average cow is expected to produce about 4,000 lbs. of milk and 200 pounds of butter annually. This contest will close the 15th of November, 1914. STATE MEETING OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Commencing next Tuesday the State Sunday School convention will convene in this city, and for three days will hold sessions at the different churches, programs having been arranged that will take up a greater part of the time while the convention is in session.

The arrangements for the big convention have been about completed, and unless there is a much greater number than is anticipated at the present time, all of the delegates will be housed and fed in good shape. The following are the heads of the committees having the charge of the affair:

General Chairman, Rev. H. C. Logan.
Vice-Chairman, Rev. Robert Locke.
Secretary, Earle M. Pease.
Treasurer, Warren G. Fisher.
Publicity, J. H. Linderman.
Assignment of Delegates, Mrs. Geo. K. Gibson.

Registration, Mrs. Louis Reichel.
Reception, Rev. C. A. Mellicke.
Buildings, Rev. H. B. Johnson.
Music, Mrs. L. P. Witter.
Finance, Warren G. Fisher.
Ushers, Geo. M. Hill.
Exhibits, Frank W. Calkins.
Meals, T. A. Taylor.
Check Room, Gerald Babcock.

Several churches of this city will be pressed into service, the convention headquarters to be at the Congregational church, while the adult division will be at the Baptist church, the Moravian church will be used for the German service and the Methodist church for the second-ary division. It is expected that these churches will probably handle the delegates nicely while those in attendance will be housed at the different homes about the city, our people having been very liberal in the matter of offering accommodations for those who will attend.

On Monday evening Mrs. Witter has made arrangements for the presentation of the cantata Ruth, so that delegates who arrive in the city on Monday will find some entertainment in the musical line that will be better than the ordinary.

Among the speakers who will be present at the convention are Prof. W. S. Athearn, at the head of the Department of Religious Education at Drake University, Iowa, Mr. Hugh Cork of Chicago, General Secretary of the Illinois Sunday School Association, Prof. A. M. Locker of St. Paul, General Secretary of Minnesota, Mr. E. O. Sellers, of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, Rev. Garrik Verkuyl, at the head of the Minnesota work in Wisconsin, and Minnesota, Rev. A. A. Tois, Educational Director for the Baptist church in Wisconsin, Mrs. Mary Foster Bryner, a well known Sunday school worker in Wisconsin, Rev. T. W. Fessenden, pastor of the Wesley church at Minneapolis, Miss Mabel L. Bailey, Elementary Superintendent of the Wisconsin Sunday School Association, Mrs. William Dietz, and others.

It is impossible with the limited space at hand to reproduce the program in detail, notwithstanding the fact that it appears to be a very interesting one. The sessions commence at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning and continue through the three days until Thursday afternoon, the evenings also being taken up with music and addresses.

It is expected there will be some four and five hundred delegates in the city during the convention, and if the weather is at all favorable there is no reason why those in attendance should not find Grand Rapids an ideal place for an event of this sort.

The assessed value of all property in Wood county is reported to be $33,078,179.

Real estate has increased $128,838,444 and personal property has increased $45,913,005 over last year's assessment.

The assessment announced is for the purpose of ascertaining the true value of all property in the state upon which the State Common school, the mill tax and the University and Normal school taxes are based. It is an equalized valuation of property in the various counties and is also used as the basis for the determination of the rate of taxation to be fixed for railroads and other public utilities when the amount of taxes to be raised by the counties and localities is ascertained.

There are 18 creameries valued at $49,740.00 with 1979 contributory patrons. The number of cows contributing value was 2,821, the number of pounds of milk used was 63,699,065 and cream 2,005,441. The number of pounds of butter made on farms was 19,481,000, valued at $5,161,750, and the number of pounds of cheese made on farms was 1,300, valued at $167,000.

No Chairvoysants Need Apply.

Evidently our city fathers do not believe in taking time by the forelock by peeping into the future, for they refused to allow Prof. LeNormand to do business in this city, notwithstanding the fact that he assured the public his advertising matter would be a real one's life like an open book, settle disputes between husband and wife, untangle love affairs and perform many other unusual feats that are supposed to bring happiness and riches to the human family. If the professor had interviewed the city authorities before he opened up shop he might have saved himself several dollars and more or less disappointment.

GIVE THANKS NOV. 26 SAYS PRESIDENT

President Wilson by proclamation issued Wednesday, designates Thursday Nov. 26, as Thanksgiving day.

Following is his proclamation: "It has long been the honored custom of our people to turn in the fruit of autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for His many blessings and mercies to us as a nation. The year that is now drawing to a close, since we last observed our day of national thanksgiving, has been, while a year of discipline because of the mighty forces of war and of changes which have disturbed the world, also a year of special blessing for us.

"It has been vouchsafed to us to remain at peace, with honor, and to some part to succeed in our efforts to supply the needs of our people in our own peace and self-control in some degree to steady the councils and shape the hopes and purposes of a day of fear and distress.

"Our people have looked upon their own life as a nation with a deeper comprehension, a fuller realization of their blessings, and a keener sense of the moral and practical significance of what our part among the nations of the world may come to be.

"The hurtful effects of foreign war in their own industrial and commercial affairs have made them feel the more fully and see the more clearly their mutual inter-dependence upon one another and has stirred them to a helpful co-operation which they have seldom practiced before. They have been quickened by a great moral stimulation.

"Their unmistakable ardor for peace, their earnest pity and disinterested sympathy for those who are suffering, their readiness to help and to think of the needs of others, has revealed them to themselves as well as to the world.

"Our crops will feed all who need food; the self-possession of our people amidst the most serious anxieties and difficulties and the steadiness and resourcefulness of our business men will serve other nations as well as our own.

"The business of the country has been supplied with instrumentalities and the commerce of the world with new channels of trade and intercourse. The Panama canal has been opened to commerce of nations. The two continents of America have been bound in closer ties of friendship.

"New instrumentalities of international trade have been created which will be also new instrumentalities of acquaintance, intercourse and mutual service. Never before have the people of the United States been so situated for their own advantage and the advantage of their neighbors or so equipped to serve themselves and mankind.

"Now, therefore I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America do hereby designate Thursday, the twenty-sixth of November next as a day of Thanksgiving, to pray and invite the people throughout the land to cease from their wonted occupations and in their several homes and places of worship render thanks to Almighty God.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington, this twenty-eighth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fourteen and the hundred and nineteenth of the United States of America, the One Hundred and Thirtieth. Woodrow Wilson—By the president: Robert Lansing, acting secretary of state."

Burglars at Work.

Some person or persons attempted to enter the Otto drug store on Thursday night, but gave up the attempt, either by being scared away or for some other reason. The place of operation was one of the back windows opening into the prescription department. Here the screen was torn from the window and one of the panes of glass cut with a glass cutter and the putty dug out alongside of the glass. When the would-be burglars got this far, they gave up the job.

It is thought that possibly the burglars imagined they were breaking prescription department of the drug into the Reichel Jewelry store, as the store is located just in the rear of the jewelry store, and the discovery that they were on the wrong track may have caused them to give up the attempt to get in.

It is thought that of amateurs, as a professional would have made an entry in a very short time with very little trouble. The police have been on the lookout since the attempt was made, but as yet have been unable to unearth anything.

Strayed.

Came to my place on Sunday, five calves. Owner can have same by paying charges. John Flick, Grand Rapids, R. D. 2.

THE NEW REVENUE TAX.

In Which Many Are Interested—Went Into Effect Nov. 1st.

The emergency revenue bill which has passed congress and became a law contains in its provisions a number of new special taxes on business and occupations (generally called by the people "excise taxes"). This provision of the law becomes effective November 1, 1914, and after that date every person engaged in any of the occupations levied upon must make proper application to the collector of internal revenue, pay the tax imposed, and secure a stamp which must be kept posted in the place of business. The tax which will affect the largest number of persons is that levied on all dealers in manufactured tobacco. This includes every one who sells any form of smoking or chewing tobacco, snuff, cigars or cigarettes, and a tax of $4.80 per year is levied on that occupation. The first payment of the tax will have to be made during the month of November, 1914.

The several occupations on which new taxes are levied are as follows: Bankers, $1.00 for each $1,000.00 of capital stock, surplus and undivided profits to figure as part of capital stock.

Brokers, $30.00.
Pawnbrokers, $50.00.
Commercial brokers, $20.00.
Custom house brokers, $10.00.

Proprietors of theatres, museums, and concert halls, where a charge of admission is made, with seating capacity not over 250, $25.00; 250 to 500, $50; 500 to 800, $75; over 800, $100.

Proprietors of circuses, $100.
Proprietors or agents of all other public exhibitions or shows for money, $10.00.

Proprietors of bowling alleys and billiard rooms, $5.00 for each alley or table.

Commission merchants, $20.00.
Dealers in leaf tobacco, $6.00 to $24.00.

Dealers in manufactured tobacco whose annual receipts from sale of tobacco amounts to $200.00 or more, $4.80.

Manufacturers of cigars, from $3.00 to $2,496.00.
Manufacturers of tobacco, $6.00 to $2,496.00.

Manufacturers of cigarettes, from $12.00 to $2,496.00.

Blank forms upon which to make application for the stamp can be secured from any postmaster, or by addressing the collector of internal revenue Madison, Wis.

As severe penalties are imposed for failure to make the return and pay the tax within the time prescribed by law all parties subject to any of the foregoing taxes should give the matter prompt attention in order to avoid the possibility of being penalized. All applications must be made and the tax paid to the collector of internal revenue not later than November 30.

The above is an official statement sent to postmasters by the treasury department at Washington, with a request that it be published for the information of all concerned.

Killed By Dynamite.

Marshall Herald.—A horrible accident happened Thursday about 10 a. m. in the town of McClintock, resulting in the death of Julius Zettler, aged 25 years. He was at work on the Greenburg farm blowing out stumps and was assisted by Joseph Gerl, a neighbor. The men at the time of the accident were two rods apart. Gerl boring a hole in a stump and Zettler putting a charge of dynamite under another. While thus engaged the charge of dynamite that Zettler was working with, exploded, the full force of which struck him. He was badly mangled about the face and body and his clothes set on fire. Not far from where he was at work, a basket in which were eight sticks of the same explosive and perhaps the dynamite was struck by a piece of the flying fragments of the stump, that two exploded tearing a big hole in the ground, the report being heard a half mile away.

As soon as he could collect his scattered senses, Gerl, who was injured, went to the rescue of his partner, whom he found unconscious. He put out the fire that was burning his clothes and then gave the alarm. Zettler was taken to his home where he died the same evening, at 11 p. m. He was totally blinded and his face and body badly lacerated.

Deceased was a son of John Zettler and leaves a young wife and one child. The funeral will be held Sunday or Monday from Hewitt Lutheran church with services conducted by Rev. August Rietow of Auburn.

Stock Fair Tuesday.

Next Tuesday, November 10th, will be the date for the regular monthly stock fair that will be held on the east side market square.

Manager Bell expects that there will be a large crowd in town that day to attend the event if the weather is favorable, for the reason that most of the country folks have their fall work out of the way, and all of them have something to dispose of.

The Reiland Packing company will continue to pay the highest market price for fat stock of all kinds and will take all that comes their way.

The brewery will give an eight of beer to the farmer that brings in the most empty kegs.

Entertain Their Friends.

The members of the Historical and Literary society entertained their friends at a Halloween party at the home of Mrs. O. T. Houghton on Friday evening, at which there was a very pleasant time for all concerned. The house had been decorated about the occasion, and everything about the place was in keeping. After the party had been properly received the evening was spent in playing bridge at which Mrs. Ed. Turbin carried off the honors for having the largest score. Refreshments were served and the evening as a whole was one long to be remembered by those in attendance.

Wm. Snyder is visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. M. E. Carey at Necedah.

New Theatre Progressing.

Work on the new theatre being erected on the west side has been progressing at a very satisfactory rate during the past week, and with the days more of favorable weather the concrete work will be finished and work on the interior of the building will be commenced on a number of the walls are being constructed of eight inch concrete blocks, and will be faced with red brick. The building will be 120 feet long and forty feet wide, and will have an eighteen foot ceiling, with a floor that slants to the stage. The building will be well provided with exits, so that it is estimated that it can be emptied in a trifle over a minute in case of emergency. The operating booth will be absolutely fireproof, with automatic shutters on the openings that will close in case of fire, so that in an emergency no fire could be communicated to the main part of the building. The seating capacity of the auditorium will be about 600, or a trifle under this number, and everything possible will be done to make the new playhouse as neat and attractive as any to be found anywhere. With favorable weather it will be possible to have the new theatre ready to open by the holidays.

Christmas Box Shipped.

The members of the Tuesday club wish to thank the people of this city who have donated to their liberal donations to our "Xmas Box," to be sent to the suffering widows and children in Europe.

It is indeed gratifying to know that there are still a few people in Grand Rapids broad enough in spirit to contribute to the relief of those who are suffering from the effects of the war. The club has been able to furnish a few little comforts to some poor widows and children in those terror-stricken countries of Europe. The following is the contents of the box:

- 12 woolen Tans 'o Shanters for girls.
- 6 woolen bonnets for babies.
- 2 woolen petticoats.
- 1 tennis night gown.
- 4 all wool Jerseys for boys.
- 2 woolen shirts.
- 30 woolen suits for children.
- 1 sleeping garment for child.
- 12 woolen suits for children.
- 12 woolen overalls for boys.

Damage Allowance Cut Down.

Neillsville Times.—Judge O. W. Schoengarth received a decision in the action brought by Wm. C. Schock, Hixon C. Mead, Jos. Klouda, and Jas. Garrison of Thorp. It will be remembered that these gentlemen were injured more or less in the automobile accident of Sept. 1913, in which Mr. Garrison lost his life. The action against the estate of Mr. Garrison was for $5,000. Judge Schoengarth decided in favor of the plaintiffs and awarded them $10,000, Klouda for $5,000 and Mead for $5,000.

These claims came up in the county judge's court for hearing and allowance or disallowance and fearfully his decision might be questioned.

He allowed Schock $100 instead of $5,000, Mead $300 in stead of $10,000, Klouda $350 and Connor $1,100, a total of 1850 as against $27,500 claimed. This decision in the county court is of course the starting point of the suit which will follow for it is very evident that the claimants will now bring action in circuit court in support of their claims and that the matter will be threshed out there.

SIGEL.

A very pretty wedding took place at the Catholic church on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, the contracting parties being John Klappa and Miss Rose Bauer, both well known young people. The Misses Fannie Klappa and Marie Bauer acted as bridesmaids and the Messrs. August Bauer and Victor Forslund as groomsmen.

Following the wedding ceremony the bride's party repaired to the home of the bride's parents where many relatives and friends assembled to celebrate the event. A wedding dinner was given at the Marceau Hall at Rudolph in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Klappa are well and favorably known here and have a host of friends who wish them a long and happy wedded life. They will make their home here on a farm owned by the former. A large crowd from Grand Rapids attended the wedding.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1914.

WOMEN AIDED BY THE NATIONAL DAIRY SHOW.

Always foremost in the van of educators in the agricultural line, Governor W. D. Hoard of Wisconsin late offered an attractive prize to the farmers of the state for the most profitably conducted farm whose records covered a period of active farming months. This premium was based on a percentage scheme, and 25 per cent of the total 100 score was given for "happy home life." The inference is plain—if the home life is harmonious and comfortable, its reflex on the work of the farm is inestimable. And as man must be fed to be happy and generate the greatest muscular and mental activity for farm work it is up to the woman to develop her knowledge of farm cooking so as to relieve herself of the heavy strain of planning and manufacturing palatable food, while setting a nourishing and economical table. Recognizing the burden in this work for woman the National Dairy Show has specialized this year on a comprehensive exhibit of the possibilities of cheese as a more frequently used article of diet, on the dairy farm dinner table. Miss Catherine J. McKee, Division of the Home Economics Department of the Iowa Agricultural College at Ames, Iowa, will have charge of a daily demonstration of cheese during the Show, at which she will prepare and lecture upon the infinite appetizing ways of using it as one of the most nourishing staples of the dairy menu. The dairy farm housewife will delight in this feature. She will get new ideas on serving cheese not generally known before. In use with breakfast food, in baked escalloped dishes of fish, potatoes and macaroni, combined as a sauce for vegetables, served in many delicious forms, served with eggs, in chicken and dressing, in hot lunch, etc. The delicious possibilities of cottage cheese seasoned and varied with pimientos, ground nuts, chives, parsley and paprika has not been well enough understood, while the proportions of a healthy nourishing Welsh Rabbit has yet to be demonstrated to develop its popularity on the dairy farm as it does on the city table.

The National Dairy Show's "Cooking School" will not be a big result to housewives. The dates of the show are October 22 to 31; the place Chicago.

Dehorning Cattle.

The cruelty connected with cutting off the horns of cattle is the more to be condemned because it is really unnecessary. The time to take off the horns is before there are any horns to take off. It has been published so often in agricultural journals that by the simplest means the growth of the horns can be prevented, so that no farmer can plead ignorance. If he has neglected to do this, he is to be pitied, but he is not to be pitied for the cruelty of the practice. A writer in the American Cultivator, while stating that the humane method is the application of caustic potash to the little nub while the calf is under two weeks of age, also says: "For the removal of grown horns there are many excellent instruments but thoroughly competent operators often consider nothing equal to an ordinary sharp saw. The horn should be cut off close to the head, even the extent of removing fully half an inch of half and skin. This is also the least painful method, as one thus cuts where the horn is thickest and the nerve or quick is narrowed down to the thickness of a pencil; and the difference between this and sawing through inches of horn and the same quantity of nerve is obvious."

This writer is greatly mistaken in what he says about the nerve or quick being much smaller at the base of the horn. The sensitiveness is greatest the farther one goes toward the base of the horn. At any point it is a very painful operation.

Any one who has seen cattle dehorned, heard the moan of the animal, and witnessed the flow of blood is outraged when told that the animal scarcely notices the operation. It is a barbarous prohibition absolutely in certain countries.

Many have an exaggerated notion of the trouble involved in stopping the growth of the horn. Take the calf anywhere under two weeks of age, preferably from three to eight days old, insert the finger in a cup of water and wet well the hair about the little nub where the horn is to start, then rub with a pencil of caustic potash till the place looks quited red. That is all that is necessary. There is no need of clipping off the hair, and to rub till blood comes is wholly needless. We know because we have done this ourselves repeatedly.

NO CORN AND GRAIN SHOW THIS YEAR.

On account of the big potato growers' convention and exhibition to be held in Grand Rapids Nov. 17-20 the Bankers' Corn and Grain Contest will not be held this year.

The Wisconsin Bankers' Association is offering $250.00 in prizes at the potato show and the local bankers are assisting financially. It is hoped, hence, that it does not seem advisable to hold another show in December.

The Bankers are already planning a Farmers' Contest for 1915 and they will assist the farmers of this community in securing pure bred seed for planting next Spring so that the 1915 show will excel anything yet attempted along that line in this county.

Resort Appointment.
Necedah, Oct. 31.—The appointment of Charles T. O'Brien as Milwaukee man up to six weeks ago, as postmaster here, has caused great indignation.
Although citizens have nothing against Mr. O'Brien personally, they say a Necedah man should have been appointed.
Although Mr. O'Brien married a Necedah girl and has visited here occasionally, he is regarded as an outsider.
Don't Forget Your Feet.

"RIGHT-CUT" growing!
Why, every man who tries it is spreading the news of the Real Tobacco Chew. Once let a man get the taste of pure, rich, sappy tobacco, seasoned and sweetened just enough—and it's all off with the old kind. Get a pouch at your dealer's. Try it—and see for yourself.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away, tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It's a really chewy, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Notice how the rich tobacco taste in The Real Tobacco Chew One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie McMillan received a very interesting letter from their daughter Anna on Tuesday. Miss McMillan is attending Columbia college in New York City, and a part of her work consists in visiting the schools of the city and giving instruction to the teachers in domestic science. A recent visit to one of the schools took her into the Jewish quarter of the city, and the scenes there were beyond anything that she had ever imagined. This part of the city is said to be the most thickly settled square mile in the country, and the manner in which the people live is seldom equaled in this country. The streets are narrow and very few teams pass over them, the business of the quarter being all done from pushcarts, which throng the streets. To a person from this part of the country the more like animals than human beings, and the experience was a decided revelation as to how a part of the people live, which would never have been imagined by anyone not seeing it with their own eyes.

It is not known how the fire originated, as it is said there had been no fire in the building for several days.

Within a few months thousands of American horses, many of them family pets will be galloping into the strappels and bayonets of German soldiers, tugging and straining at the reins, and dragging heavy artillery traces as they drag frozen roads or lying over the half frozen roads or lying wounded, helpless and dying on some field. For, despite the peace talk, despite the humane sentiment of our people and despite everything, trainload after trainload of American horses are leaving Chicago every day for Canada, to be shipped to St. Louis, Kansas City and Louisville, daily for New Orleans, whence the horses are shipped to France. These horses are being bought now, today, in the rural districts of the middlewest, as well as from the ranges further west. Many a family pet will be bullet-shattered and will die a lingering death in the midst of the coming winter, for there are no Red Cross societies to care for wounded horses.

Only the immediate relatives were present, owing to the illness of the groom's mother and the bride's father.
Mr. Jones is engaged in the hardware and implement business at Sherry, while the bride has for several years been a successful teacher near Oshkosh and is an accomplished young lady. After a short trip to the southern part of the state, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Jones will go to house-keeping in a nicely furnished home at Sherry.

UNABLE TO BREAK LINES OF ALLIES

Berlin and Paris Reports Agree That Positions Are Practically Unchanged.

WITNESS TELLS OF FIGHTING

Battle in the Northwest Described by Correspondent of London Paper—Destruction Wrought by Armored Trains—Russian Claims Are That Germans Have Been Forced Back From Warsaw—De Wet, Famous Boer Leader, Joins Uprising in South Africa.

London, Oct. 25.—The official reports given out in Paris and Berlin agree that the Germans have been unable to break through the line of the allies drawn up in Belgium west of the Yser canal between Nieupoort and Dixmude.

The French statements make the further claim that the violent attacks of the Germans in the district between La Bassée and the Somme river also have failed, but the German statement says that southwest of Ypres and west and southwest of Lille the army of the allies is going forward after having inflicted heavy losses on the British troops.

The Germans also assert that their artillery has driven the British fleet away from the shore line between Nieupoort and Ostend, where the warships have been bombarding the trenches of the Germans. Three vessels are reported to have been hit by shells from the shore batteries.

Nieupoort is bombarded.
The big guns of the Germans bombarded Nieupoort and the allies had to withstand constant attacks of masses of troops.

On the line from Solons to Craonne the allies are said to have obtained a slight advantage in the fighting, while on the eastern wing the French are credited with a gain which, it is claimed, placed the German lines of communication in difficulty. The French here pushed well forward and left only a narrow outlet 12 miles wide for a possible German retreat.

The French are said to occupy every position of importance in the Voisges.

The French have become more active in the East along the Alsatian border and are said to be making preparations and securing advanced positions in view of possible attacks by the Germans with their big howitzers on the Belgian fortress. It now seems to be realized that no fortress has any chance of holding out when once these big German guns are brought into action against it.

Germans Bring Great Guns.
It is reported from Amsterdam that the Germans are bringing their 42-centimeter guns to the coast to use against the allies' warships, but the British sailors are credited with saying that their vessels can prevent these guns from being put in position.

The British fleet which such execution in the North Sea, and the allies are said to have withdrawn. The belief is expressed here that the fleet will be able to render untenable German occupation of any part of the Belgian or French coast.

The opinion also is expressed here that the operations of the allied vessels in the North Sea, off the Belgian coast, and in the vicinity of the Straits of Dover may cause the German fleet to come out and give battle.

Armies Cannot Move Rapidly.
The crossing of the Yser apparently had only a moral effect, as the Germans were confronted by solid lines of allied troops, and were prevented from advancing without overwhelming efforts further toward the channel ports.

The character of the country prohibits a rapid movement, as the land is cut up by canals, and two strong series of defensive works separate them from Dunkirk.
The German infantry executed a number of night attacks, not only on the extreme wing, but also in the vicinity of Lille, where they encountered a most obstinate resistance. The allies are displaying wonderful energy in this region. The commanders are sparing neither man nor material, and are able to give constant relief to the troops on the front line.

Both sides speak of the heavy losses they have imposed on their adversaries, but say nothing of their own dead or wounded, to fill the places of whom reinforcements are being brought forward.

German Official Report.
The latest Berlin statement, in the form of a report from the general staff, is as follows:
"West of the Yser canal, between Nieupoort and Dixmude, which is still occupied by the enemy, our troops attacked the hostile positions, which are obviously deserted."

The British fleet was forced back by the heavy artillery fire. Three ships were hit. During the afternoon of October 25 the fleet kept beyond the distance of sight.
"Near Ypres the battle is stagnant." Southwest of Ypres the fighting was continued. The allies' attacks are progressing. During severe street fighting the English suffered great losses, leaving about five hundred prisoners.

INDIAN SOLDIERS IN WINTER

Little Doubt That British Allies Will Be Able to Stand the Rigors of European Weather.

How will the Indian troops stand the continental winter? The answer should not be in doubt. The martial races of India come mostly from regions which have a very cold winter, some from highlands where the prevailing temperature for four or five months of the year is much lower

Were Made.

Supplies of gunpowder in the magazines of the warring European nations are enormous, according to Col. E. G.

alone has 225,000 tons of powder.
This is nine times as much as all

CZAR'S DAUGHTER INSPECTS HER REGIMENT

Grand Duchess Olga, eldest daughter of the czar, inspecting the regiment of cavalry of which she is the colonel, before its departure for the front.

"North of Arras a heavy French attack broke down, the French losses being severe."

French Official Report.
The official communication issued by the French war office in Paris said:
"In Belgium, Nieupoort has been violently bombarded and the efforts of the Germans have continued on the front between Nieupoort and Dix-mude without, according to the latest advices, any result whatever having been reached."

"All the front comprised between La Bassée and the Somme has been equally the object of violent attacks at night, all of which have been repulsed."

"On the remainder of the front there is nothing to report."

Tells of Hard Battle.
The correspondent of the Daily News, who has been in an armored train to the banks of the Yser, gives a description of the battle in the northwest:
"The battle rages along the Yser, with frightful destruction of life, he says. "Air engines, sea engines, and land engines sweep this desolation country vertically, horizontally, and transversely. Through it the frail little human engines crawl and dig, walk and run, skimming, charging, and blundering in little individual fights and tussles, tired and puzzled, ordered here and there, and where they can, never washing, and dying unnoticed. A friend may find himself firing on a friendly force, and few are to blame."

"On Thursday the Germans were driven back over the Yser; on Friday they secured a footing again, and on Saturday they were again hurled back. Now a bridge blown up by one side is repaired by the other; it is again blown up by the first or left as a death trap till the enemy is actually crossing."

Feats of Armored Trains.
"Actions by armored trains, some of them the most reckless adventures, are attempted daily. Each day censures an unwritten record of daring individual feats, accepted as part of the daily work. Day by day our men push out on those dangerous explorations, attacked by shell fire, in danger of cross fire, dynamite, and ambuscades, bringing a priceless supply to the threatened lines."

"Now we are near the river at a flat country farm. The territory is scarred with trenches and it is impossible to say at first who is in it, so incidental and separate are the fortunes of this riverside battle. The Germans are on our bank, enfilading the Russes of the German line. The creep up, and the Germans come into one of the trenches, rush to the bank, and are scattered and smashed.
The allies follow with a fierce bayonet charge."

"The Germans do not wait. They rush to the bridges and are swept away by the deadliest desecration of the machine gun. The bridge is blown up, but who can say by whom?
Quickly the train runs back."

DRIVEN BACK FROM WARSAW

Advices From Petrograd Are to the Effect That Retreat of the Germans Continues.

London, Oct. 25.—There has been no slackening of the retreat of the German armies from Warsaw, according to the best information available. Apparently the Kaiser's troops have been driven from position after position and have been forced to continue their hurried marches toward the frontier without getting a moment's rest from the pursuing armies which the Grand Duke Nicholas is pushing forward at top speed.

An official statement from Petrograd regarding the operations in Poland says:
"The precipitate flight of the Germans continues. They are evacuating Lodz, 75 miles west southwest of Warsaw. They made an unsuccessful attempt to arrest the offensive Rushian movement by clinging to positions at Sokhatoff, from which, however, they were dislodged with heavy losses."

"We have progressed along the route from Nova to Alexandria, where we captured numerous prisoners and cannon."

Break Down Austrian Resistance.
"The stubborn resistance of the Austrians in Galicia is weakening and our troops are making vigorous progress in the region south of Sambor and Staromasto, where we took 11 cannons and many caissons."

"The entire valley of the River Sprynye is covered with bodies of the enemy, estimated to aggregate at least 5,000."

"All attempts by the Germans to resume a partial offensive on the East Prussian front have been repelled."

Germans Near Augustow.
A dispatch from Berlin says the following German official communication has been issued:
"In the eastern theater of the war our offensive on Augustow is progressing. The battle near Ivangorod is favorable, but there has been no decision."

According to a dispatch from Rotterdam, the Vossische Zeitung of Berlin says that the Russians, who had withdrawn most of their troops from Lemberg, have now sent 30,000 men there who are strenuously fortifying the town. The Russians, the paper says, are clearly determined to keep Lemberg at all costs.

DE WET JOINS BOER REVOLT

Famous Leader, With General Beyers, In Armed Rebellion Against British Rule.

London, Oct. 25.—What is unmistakably a grave revolt against the British government in South Africa has broken out.
The colonial office issued officially a dispatch from the government of the commonwealth of South Africa stating that the famous Boer general, Christian De Wet, who gave the British so much trouble in the South African war, is leading the revolt in the Orange free state. Another well-known Boer general, Beyers, heads a similar revolt in western Transvaal.

Gen. Louis Botha, premier of the union of South Africa, has left for the front in an attempt to quell the rebellion, an official Pretoria dispatch announced late tonight.

Rebels Seize Town.
According to an official report received today, armed rebellious commandos are already in existence; the town of Heilbron, in the northern part of the Orange river colony, has been seized and the government officials have been taken prisoners, while a train has been stopped and armed citizens of the defense force have been taken from it and disarmed.

The union government has issued a proclamation to the people, announcing these events and explaining that, although it was aware of these rebellious preparations, it had been taking steps to preserve peace without bloodshed.

REPORT HEAVY FRENCH LOSS

Berlin, via Savoy, Oct. 25.—The Swiss newspapers report that since the capture by the Germans of Camp Des Romains the French losses in the battle line between Toul and Verdun have been more than 40,000 men. The French officers, according to statements in these newspapers, complain of the inferior quality of the French troops.

KAISER WILL LEAD ARMIES

London, Oct. 25.—The Copenhagen correspondent of the Times learns from Berlin that under the new military agreement between Germany and Austria Emperor William undertakes the leadership of the united armies.

PRINCE KILLED IN BATTLE

London, Oct. 25.—It is announced that Prince Maurice Victor Donald of Battenberg, an officer in the king's Royal Rifles, has died of wounds received while fighting the Germans in France.

EXPELL GERMANS

London, Oct. 25.—An Exchange telegram from Petrograd says all Austrians and Germans have been ordered to leave the Russian capital within the next fortnight.

RELEASE POTASH TO U. S.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—James W. Gerard,
the American ambassador in Germany,
has obtained from the German government the lifting of the embargo placed upon 1,000 tons of potash destined for America.

BEIGIAN LOSSES HEAVY

Berlin, Oct. 25.—English newspapers, according to official information given out here, estimate that the Belgian losses in the fighting along the Yser canal number 10,000 men.

ORDERS CALAIS TAKEN

London, Oct. 25.—The Copenhagen
correspondent of the Times wires that the reports received there from German sources say the Kaiser has issued the direct order that, no matter what the cost, Calais is to be taken.

REPORT LACK OF FUEL

Brussels, Belgium, Oct. 25.—The German troops in central Belgium
have virtually exhausted their petrol supply. Oil is issued now only to high officers, and then in small quantities.

TROOPS ARE WORN OUT; FIGHT STOPS

ARMIES TAKE REST AFTER TEN DAYS OF SUPERHUMAN EFFORTS.

ALLIED LINE IS UNBROKEN

Germans Will Renew Attack in Attempt to Force Their Way Through Dunkirk—Report
Heavy French Losses.

London, Oct. 25.—The limit of human endurance has been reached in the battle in West Flanders, and the fighting, which slackened on Tuesday, came to an almost complete stop on Wednesday. Dispatches from points along the Dutch frontier state that the artillery firing has ceased, and passengers crossing the channel bring the same news.

It was this, doubtless, that led to the report coming from Northern France that the Germans had retired, having given up their attempt to reach the channel ports.

First Effort Fails.
The fact is that the two armies have fought themselves out temporarily and that the Germans' first effort to break through the allies' lines has failed.
Neither side could continue any longer, the men having been without sleep or rest for the ten days that the battle has been in progress, over ground which at present is a morass.

The Germans succeeded last Saturday in getting some men across the Yser canal, and they put more men across on Sunday. But the force facing them was too formidable, and now the opposing armies are taking a long needed rest.

There is every evidence, however, that the Germans intend to renew their attempt to force their way through Dunkirk. They are bringing up fresh men and more ammunition and guns, but at the same time are taking every precaution to prepare a second line of defense, should their forward movement again meet with defeat. The new attempt it is believed will be made farther inland, for the failure of the first one was due largely to the bombardment that the troops and artillery had to undergo from the British and French warships off the coasts of Belgium.

The central forces which have been left to hold the line from the Oise to the Meuse while the greater battle is proceeding, have been engaging in night attacks at different points, the advantage sometimes going to the one and sometimes to the other. It is said that in one of these night attacks near Craonne the Germans lost 2,000 men.

Along the Meuse the French are advancing slowly, but the Germans are not in their effort to cut off the Germans, who are holding the latter place.

The greater part of Africa has been drawn into conflict. It is reported that Germans have invaded Angola, one of Portugal's African possessions; that there has been fighting on the borders of the German and Belgian colonies in that continent, and that the British and Germans have been having more skirmishes.

Invasion Not Unexpected.
The invasion of Angola was not unexpected, for Portugal had declared her intention of helping the allies, and in view of the possibility of a German attack on her colonies had sent reinforcements to her garrisons.
Portugal, if the report of the German invasion is true, has not time to be drawn into the war and there still is danger of others following.

Holland is growing uneasy in the fear that her neutrality may be violated. The mouth of the Scheldt, which the Germans, now that they serve to them, and the eastern border of The Netherlands where the Germans are massing troops, are the danger points. The Dutch government declares it is prepared to guard the country's neutrality at any cost.

Swiss newspapers report that since the capture by the Germans of Camp Des Romains the French losses in the battle line between Toul and Verdun have been more than 40,000

to statements in these newspapers,
complain of the inferior quality of the French troops.

KAISER WILL LEAD ARMIES

London, Oct. 25.—The Copenhagen

EXPELL GERMANS

London, Oct. 25.—An Exchange telegram from Petrograd says all Austrians and Germans have been ordered
to leave the Russian capital within the next fortnight.

RELEASE POTASH TO U. S.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—James W. Gerard,
the American ambassador in Germany,
has obtained from the German government the lifting of the embargo placed upon 1,000 tons of potash destined for America.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—English newspapers, according to official information
given out here, estimate that the Belgian losses in the fighting along the Yser canal number 10,000 men.

ORDERS CALAIS TAKEN

London, Oct. 25.—The Copenhagen
correspondent of the Times wires that
the reports received there from German sources say the Kaiser has issued
the direct order that, no matter what
the cost, Calais is to be taken.

REPORT LACK OF FUEL

Brussels, Belgium, Oct. 25.—The German troops in central Belgium
have virtually exhausted their petrol
supply. Oil is issued now only to high
officers, and then in small quantities.

VIENNA MELANCHOLY AS A SEPULCHER AS WAR GOES ON AND NEWS IS BARRED

(The following story is the first received from the United States telling of actual war conditions in Vienna. It is written by the first American-trained newspaper woman who has had an opportunity to see things as they are in Austria.)

By ALICE ROHE.

(United States Staff Correspondent.) Vienna.—Vienna is a city of lost hope, of gloom, of gray despair.
The once gayest and most beautiful capital of Europe is today the saddest, the most distressed. Silent, hopeless protests against the horrors of war which have turned this wonderful joyous city into a melancholy sepulcher for the living, permeates every stratum of society.

I have seen a procession of 4,000 mothers, whose husbands have died in Galicia, carrying in their arms their fatherless babies. They filed past the great cold palace of the ministry of war. It was their mute appeal for peace.

I have seen a procession of little children, plaintive and futile emulsated by life, silently protesting against needless death.

Dazed by War Horrors.
I have seen trains arriving, every one crowded to suffocation with the wounded and dying. From the midst of these maimed and mutilated, sickened and suffering men, I have seen uncomprehending soldiers, with joy at the horrors of war, dragged from their beds and placed under arrest.

Their crime?—Why, they cried out in the delirium of excitement their curses against the Russians who had brought such terrible defeat to the Austrian armies. For no news must be whispered by the wounded or the fugitive which reflects the truth of Austrian disaster.

And these visual pictures of the melancholy Vienna of today, I have sensed the touch of those gray wings of dread which cast their shadow over the town—the soiled, the sordid, the horrible wings of death, beside this hideous enemy, the plague —its silent specter, hunger.

Seventy Thousand Now in Hospitals.
In Vienna today 70,000 wounded are in hospitals, in schools, in universities, hotels, churches. The Red Cross admits its inability to care for all the wounded, and the sight of helpless men, suffering needlessly and hopelessly, is one which confronts the worker in the cause of humanity.

In all Europe capital where the public is treated so inconsiderately in regard to war news. The newspapers publish nothing save the official statements—and their "news" can be guessed at.

Arrests are made hourly of Viennese who whisper of Austrian defeat. Spies are everywhere.
In a cafe on the Praterstrasse I sat in a nervous crowd and saw whispering refugees from Galicia passing their story on, furtively and fearfully.

Suddenly I saw a young man whose pale face told of recent suffering, be-serted by his companion, who went to the door, whispered to an officer and departed. A moment the fugitive was arrested. He had talked to a spy.

Talks to Young Mother.

At the same station where the incoming trains bring new misery for young Vienna that I talked with a young mother whose husband lay dead on the battlefield. She had a child in her arms, and she was crying.
The mother had taken her husband for means of support and some of the necessaries of life. She told in patient, resigned tones of her sufferings in bringing her three children from Galicia, where her home was to be harden no longer, and where blood ran deep in the garden beds which she had planted so faithfully waiting the return of her husband.

"When we arrived at the frontier," she said, "the scenes were awful. We were herded like animals and were treated worse than we treat our dogs.
I was days in securing a place in the train, and when I got on, the train was a police officer on the train, and he demanded our passports, such money as we had, and when we could show neither he refused for days to let us go on."

The natural impulse of these fugitives here is to speak of the evil days which have befallen them, of their losses and the carnage—and they cannot understand why they are arrested for it.

Moves Citizens to Despair.

The sight of automobiles carrying wounded soldiers past the brilliant Habsburg theater past the opera, past the splendor of St. Stephens, where formerly gay cars sped on, bent on pleasure, is one that moves the Viennese to despair.

I talked to one of these wounded soldiers as the car in which he was being carried was stopped in front of the Burgtheater for repairs. He told me in whispers, while the guards were busy with the car, of the frightful ravages made by the Russians and the Serbians upon the Austrians.

"They have buried our dead in heaps," he said, tears coursing down his face. "They are killing like sheep driven to a slaughter yard. The Russian artillery has done unbelievable things. The Russians waste their ammunition as though it were free as air."

Their infantry is not good, but how terrible is the artillery—how terrible!"

The spirit of patriotism in the Viennese runs to its highest flood when these wounded men are being conveyed through the streets.

Show Captured Arms.
Before the palace of the minister of war, beside the monument of Maria Theresa and of Prince Schwarzenberg, the cannons and arms captured from the Russians are on view. They are insignificant arms, but the people do not tire of gazing them. The meager signs of Austrian success are like gleams of hope in a leaden sea of despair.

And patrolling the streets one sees increasing in number daily nondescript army uniforms. Every color and sort of ancient regalia has been brought forth from old storehouses.
In the hour when war and its horrors are keeping a pall over Vienna the sight of religious processions, headed by priests praying for Divine aid, brings out in relief the picture of faith. The churches are constantly filled with women and children, praying for husbands and fathers and for the men who may never return. In the time of sorrow too great to endure alone the people are throwing themselves more and more upon the bosom of the church, which has offered them consolation so many times before.

Rich Are Accused.
While the devout are filling the churches and the wounded are filling the hospitals, the wretched folk who give no thought to their families from Galicia, accusations and protests are rising above the murmurs of distress, against the rich.

On different subscription lists opened daily for the Red Cross and the sight of unbelievably small sums given by members of the nobility and by millionaires has brought forth waves of indignation. A feudal prince who is among the richest men in Europe has subscribed 20 crowns ($4). Everywhere one hears criticism of the aristocracy, of the high nobility and their avarice. This selfishness, say the people, is traditional. The nobles believe that in an hour like this the tightened purses of the nobility would be opened. It has been suggested that a list be published, giving the names of the nobility, of the rich who have been guilty of avarice, and who have added to the general public depression. Emperor Frederick, it is said, did not conceal his indignation against those grasping members of the nobility.

HESSIAN PRINCE SHOT IN BACK, SAY ALLIES

By HAROLD ASHTON.
(International News Service.)

Calais.—Hospitals, both in the field and at the base, are full of work just now, for the fighting that is going on is fierce and reckless.
Troops upon entering a small village, held strenuously for several days by the Prussians, came upon the body of Prince Max of Hesse. He had been dead three days. The body had been stripped of everything but the tunic and socks and was marked with five revolver wounds made from behind. The tale is whispered that he was the victim of his own soldiers.
A rough crowd of local boys was made for the body, and they were told that—and then for three long days the body lay in an outbuilding of a small farmhouse. The body now has been sent into the German lines.
Continual night fighting has been
